Agenda for April 25, 2010

Time: 7:00pm

“The unreal is more powerful than the real, because nothing is as perfect as you can imagine it because it’s only intangible ideas, concepts, beliefs, fantasies that last. Stone crumbles. Wood rots. People die. But things as fragile as a thought, a dream, a legend, they can go on and on”.

--Chuck Palahniuk, American freelance journalist

Vassar College Student Referenda

The Vassar Student Association is considering the use of the term "correlate sequence" to describe the group of (usually six) courses taken within a field of study. Some students have noted that the term is not widely recognized outside of Vassar College. The purpose of this referendum is to gauge student opinion of the continued use of the term "correlate sequence" vs. moving to the term "minor."

I would prefer the term "correlate sequence."

I would prefer the term "minor."
